

BCLabNet

Online Data Access...

Introducing:

BCLabNet - was designed with our clients needs in mind. It is the ultimate communication tool that allows our clients to gain access inside the laboratory.

With BCLabNet our clients can manage their projects from start to finish. Our Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS) assists them in efficiently and accurately handling samples and tracking current data as they become available. We have in-house IT personnel that can create, design, and customize reports to meet your needs.

BCLabNet

SUMMARY

The web-based tool provides near real-time data direct from our Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS), meaning that world-wide users are able to follow test results live.

BCLabNet represents a major step forward because fast access to results is critical to the efficiency of many activities.

For example, in the past it would have been necessary to wait for a complete set of results, whereas BCLabNet users are now able to view partial results as they become available.

BCLabNet
